CONG. SMITH HITS TRUMAN'S ACTION

Terms Congress Call "Purely Political."

"Purely political" charged Congressman Frederick C. Smith here today in joining the general GOP condemnation of President Truman's call for a special session of congress July 26.

The Eighth congressional district Republican leader in a statement to The Star said "The calling by the President of the special session of congress the 26th of this month is a purely political move. It is not for the good of the country. In any event it is apt to do more harm than good.

"The national budget is already out of balance and in all likelihood legislation will be recommended by the President involving expenditures which will throw the budget still further out of line.

"Calling of the special session is, in fact, an act of desperation.

"Congress should adjourn immediately after convening and give Harry S. Truman to understand that the Constitution makes the congress and the congress alone, responsible for the enactment of any and all legislation."

Congressman Smith's denunciation of the President's plan for special session to consider such issues as housing, anti-inflation and civil rights measures followed the line taken by many Republicans of the GOP-controlled house and senate who have called the move "cheap politics."

7TH TRAFFIC VICTIM IN BUCYRUS DIES

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—The death in Bucyrus City hospital at 1:15 Thursday afternoon of Mrs. Susan Robich, 61, Spring Valley, Ill., added another fatality to the already high total for July as the result of traffic accidents.

Mrs. Robich suffered a broken neck in an accident on route 30-N between Oceola and Upper Sandusky Monday afternoon in which her uncle, Paul Kalman, 74, met instant death. She had remained unconscious and in a paralyzed state since the accident. Her husband, Martin Robich, 64 was less seriously injured in the mishap.

The body was returned to Spring Valley for burial.

The accident occurred during a heavy rain, the car skidding on the wet pavement and overturning.

The fatality is the seventh for Bucyrus and vicinity this month.

COUNCILMAN DIES

EAST PALESTINE, July 16—J. Lee Gainer, 56, a former city councilman, died suddenly of a heart attack Thursday noon while at the wheel of his auto.

ANNUAL CAR CHECKS END SECOND WEEK

Beneficial Results Seen in Traffic Program.

The annual month's statewide program of traffic checks for the wholesale inspection of automobiles traveling Ohio's roads finished its second week of action today. The check for Marion county and surrounding area has been completed but checks will continue on various sections of the state for the next two weeks.

As Ohio has no compulsory vehicle inspection law, but numerous statutes establishing operational requirements of car and truck equipment, the free vehicle inspections are given each July as a public service by the combined efforts of the state highway patrol, the Ohio Police Chief's Association, and local police and sheriff's departments, sponsors of the checks.

This year's check for Marion county was held north of Marion on state routes 23 and 4 on July 9. As an indication of public enthusiasm for the checks Chief William E. Marks of the Marion police received calls from city and district motorists for four months prior to the announcement of the check date inquiring when the check would take place here.

While the present system is not put forth as a substitute for compulsory car and truck inspection, many police authorities believe the checks not only add to the safety of motoring by helping make sure that cars in operation are adequately maintained, at least part of the year, but contribute to a better understanding by the public of the problems faced daily by police traffic details and highway patrolmen.

Injured Race Driver's Condition "Fairly Good"

Marion Slane of Van Wert, O., driver who was injured in a three-sulky collision at the Marion harness racing meet last night at the Marion County fairgrounds, is reported to be in "fairly good condition today at City hospital.

William Osborn of 267 South Vine street suffered cuts and bruises of the face yesterday at 5:45 p. m. on County road 139 about one mile south of here when a truck he was driving went out of control and overturned, the state highway patrol reported today. He drove the vehicle off the road to avoid striking an unidentified child who had run in the truck's path, he told patrolmen. The vehicle was considerably damaged. The child was uninjured. Mr. Osborn was taken to City hospital by a passing motorist where he was treated.

GOP ON GUARD TO KILL OFF TRUMAN GAINS

Determined Not To Let President Benefit from "Turnip Day" Call.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16—Republicans whetted their legislative knives today to chop down any political crops which may sprout from President Truman's "turnip day" recall of the Eightieth congress.

Vigorously they assailed Mr. Truman's summons to return July 26 as "cheap politics" but they also dropped broad hints that if there is any vote harvest to be gathered in the special session it will not be a one-party reaping.

One member of the house Republican steering committee, who refused to allow use of his name, suggested that GOP lawmakers may open some investigations of the Democratic administration.

Just what might be investigated he did not say. But he told reporters one or two good investigations could provide a lot of campaign ammunition for the Republican party.

Mr. Truman issued his summons yesterday for the return of what he has called about the "worst congress" in history. Acting just 12 hours after winning the Democratic nomination in a north-south splintered convention the President said "an extraordinary occasion requires" the special session.

9 Major Problems

He told the convention he wants congress to act on nine major problems: inflation, housing, education, health, civil rights, minimum wage boosts, social security, public power and displaced persons.

In Missouri—the President said, July 26 is "turnip day"—the best day to sow seed for a good harvest. But it was clear that in calling back Republican lawmakers on that date to make good on their platform promises it was a Democratic vote harvest Mr. Truman had in mind.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was silent on the special session call. Next week the Republican standard bearer plans to open campaign headquarters in Washington, where he can take a direct hand in guiding his party's political fortunes—on Capitol Hill, among other places.

From all sections of the country GOP senate and house members sounded a mounting chorus of opposition to the special session. To some, resuming the law-making chores which they considered finished June 20 will mean simply a halt to their vacations. But to more it will mean a halt in campaigns for November reelection.

Southerners Displeased

Even some Democrats—mostly southerners—showed displeasure. In Birmingham, meanwhile a group of rebel southern party members mapped plans to hamstring Mr. Truman's election chances by leaving their state electors unpledged.

Headed by the state's rights delegates from Alabama and Mississippi who walked out of the Philadelphia convention, the Birmingham group hopes to unite the 11 Dixie states in an anti-Truman bloc in the electoral college.

But Senator Russell (D-Ga), who received 263 votes for the presidential nomination from the anti-Truman delegates at Philadelphia, said he does not consider the Birmingham meeting "the best thing for the party."

Wants Team Play

Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-RI) meanwhile told national party leaders in Philadelphia that if they can "keep the team together" he is confident they can elect Mr. Truman and his running mate, Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

Barkley backed Mr. Truman's special session call as a "courageous and proper thing to do, now that both parties have shown what they stand for."

The special session call also got a boost from Henry A. Wallace, the Third party presidential candidate. He said in a statement issued in New York:

"The new party welcomes the call for a special session of congress. When congress meets it will give the country a preview of what bi-partisan campaign promises mean.

"We shall see each party trying to maneuver the other so as to snare votes but at the same time passing no bills that might really aid the people."

U. S. Steel, Union Agree On 13-Cent Pay Raise

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, July 16—U. S. Steel Corp. and the CIO United Steelworkers have agreed upon a third round wage increase which averages 13 cents an hour for 170,000 hourly paid employes.

Formal announcement of the increase was expected later today after ratification by the union's wage and policy committee.

Starts at 9½ Cents

The increases, it was learned, will range from 9½ cents an hour for common laborers such as sweepers and janitors to 24 cents an hour for highly-skilled workers, such as blooming mill rollers and bessemer blowers.

Negotiations on the new contract had been carried on for several weeks after U. S. Steel abandoned its anti-wage raise experiment, which it adopted in April. At that time "Big Steel" refused to raise wages and instead cut prices $25,000,000, hoping that other industries would follow its lead in a battle against inflation.

But with the breaking of the wage line in the electrical, automotive, coal, and other industries, U. S. Steel reconsidered its stand and granted the third round increase which now is expected to set a pattern for the nation's other steelmakers.

Yardstick for Industry

If the U. S. Steel agreement is used as the yardstick, as it has been in the past, a total of 900,000 steelworkers will receive the wage hike.

The wage increase is based on a 9½ cent boost in the rate of the lowest job classification, plus an increase of one-half cent an hour in the "increment" now provided between each of 30 job ratings. The old increment was four cents an hour, which has now been raised to four and one-half cents.

The lowest rate has been upped from $1.09 to $1.18½ cents. The highest classification has been raised from $2.23 to $2.48.

PRICES TO BE RAISED

PITTSBURGH, July 16—The U. S. Steel Corp. and the CIO-United Steelworkers today agreed to pay increases averaging 13 cents hourly and the firm announced it has no alternative but to raise prices to meet resultant higher labor costs.

LAST SALUTE FOR GENERAL

Truman, Cabinet and Escort Troops To Attend Rites at Arlington Monday.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16 — A vast military funeral procession is planned for General of the Armies John J. Pershing.

Tentative plans call for an escort of thousands of infantry and armored cavalry troops, navy blue jackets, marines and air force personnel. In addition, there is to be a farewell salute by air force planes over the grave of the 87-year-old war hero, who died early yesterday at Walter Reed hospital after 16 years of steadily failing health.

President Truman and the full cabinet are expected to attend the graveside ceremonies on Monday in Arlington National cemetery. With them will be the generals and admirals who compose the nation's military high command.

Included among the crack army troops from Washington and posts in this area will be the ceremonial unit from nearby Fort Myer, Va., and 250 men from the 3rd mechanized cavalry at Fort Meade, Md.

At Fort Worth, Tex., the commander of Carswell Air Force base alerted a Negro staff sergeant of whom Pershing once said "I want no one but Charley Wycoff to sound taps for me."

Pershing chose his own burial plot in Arlington, in an area where men who served with him in France are interred. The grave site is on a slope below the tomb of the unknown soldier—who died in action during World War I while under the general's command.

By order of President Truman, "as a mark of respect to General Pershing's memory," flags will fly at half-mast at all public buildings, forts, military posts, naval stations and aboard United States navy ships until after the funeral.

The almost unprecedented military tribute — possibly the greatest since burial of the unknown soldier—will start Sunday morning.

Army troops will escort the general's body from Walter Reed hospital, in northwest Washington, to the capitol. Until Monday morning he will lie in state in the high, vaulted rotunda of the grey old building, resting on a historic catafalque which previously had borne the remains of Abraham Lincoln and the unknown soldier.

Durocher New Boss of Giants

Replaces Mel Ott in National League Shakeup; Shotton To Manage "Bums."

By International News Service

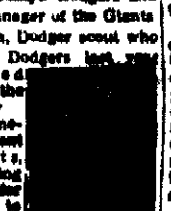
NEW YORK, July 16—Mel Ott resigned today as manager of the New York Giants.

Leo Durocher resigned as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers and was named manager of the Giants.

Burt Shotton, Dodger scout who managed the Dodgers last year, was renamed manager of the Dodgers today.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, called a meeting of the press for noon today to make the announcement.

It had been rumored for sometime that Ott was on his way out of the New York club. He had been given to understand that this year he had to make good or go.



MEL OTT

The Giants started off well but ran into their usual pitching troubles. Injuries to key players further hampered the Giants and soon they started to tumble toward the second division.

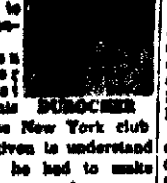
The club which last year led the National League with 221 home runs, this year finds itself last in the league in team batting.

There had been recent talk that Durocher was through with the Dodgers and many believed that only a recent winning streak by the Brooklyn club could save his job.

Branch Rickey, president of the club, had been vague in dealing with these reports. He had stuck by Durocher when Leo drew a year's suspension from A. B. Chandler, the baseball commissioner.

When the suspension was lifted this year, Rickey restored Durocher to his old job and sent Shotton, who had led the Dodgers into a pennant last year, to head the farm system and be assistant-chief of the Dodger forces.

Durocher's enemies—and for a time they seemed to be legion—presented this move. They wanted Shotton and attendance began to fall off at the Brooklyn ball games.



SHOTTON

Durocher will take over the reins of the New York club immediately. Shotton, who is now in Cincinnati where the Dodgers are playing the Reds will step in at once into Durocher's managerial shoes.

These moves should be beneficial all around. Rickey gets the kind of manager he likes. So does Stoneham. Both clubs should be benefitted by the moves.

Ott, one of the best liked members of the baseball fraternity, will take a brief vacation and then return to the Giants staff in a capacity still not determined.

PLEDGES USE OF FORCE TO BACK ACTION

Moves To Enforce Strongest Decision in United Nations History.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, July 16—The security council last night ordered the war in Palestine stopped. It was the strongest decision in United Nations history.

The 11-nation council gave the Jews and Arabs three days to cease firing and committed itself to back up the decision with force. The delegates also ordered an unconditional cease-fire in Jerusalem, effective by tonight. The Holy City is to be demilitarized.

The final vote came on an American resolution after three days of debate. The ballot was 7 to 1 with only Syria in opposition. Russia, the Soviet Ukraine and Argentina abstained. The seven affirmative voters — just enough to approve the plan—included United States, Britain and France.

British Cautious

It marked a British break with the Arab world but during the closing hours of debate Sir Alexander Cadogan sought to soften the blow by explaining carefully that his government was not indorsing any suggestion that the Arabs are the aggressors. Rather, he said, Britain insists that a truce go on to enable Count Folke Bernadotte to continue Arab-Jewish negotiations.

Israel is expected to comply with the order. Arab delegates have told the council they could see no chance of the Arab countries accepting.

Under the council order failure of either side to comply within three days automatically "demonstrates" a breach of world peace. The council then is committed to immediately consider invoking its most potent weapons under the UN charter — diplomatic sanctions, economic sanctions and international land, sea and air forces.

Copies of the order immediately went out to Israel and the seven Arab nations under Bernadotte's signature. The Swedish count booked air passage for his Middle East headquarters on Rhodes for tomorrow.

Meanwhile, he tackled the job of rounding up a corps of military observers to control the new armistice, which is to continue until a peaceful settlement of the Palestine problem is reached.

Observers Sought

A UN spokesman said Bernadotte had "initially" contacted the American, French and Belgian governments about supplying observers and equipment such as planes and ships. The spokesman emphasized the word "initially." There was speculation that the UN mediator might invite Russia to send men too.

Bernadotte has been under blistering attack from the Soviet Union during his appearances before the council this week. He was accused of attempting to wreck the UN decision to partition Palestine through introduction of new proposals. Russia was irritated too by Bernadotte's refusal to use any Soviet military observers during the four-week truce, which ended last Friday when the Arabs turned down an extension.

Russia's abstention on the final vote on the American plan was due to opposition to continuing Bernadotte as mediator. The Russians held that the partition plan is in effect and there is no need for mediation because the provisions of the scheme are not subject to change.

Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob Malik strongly supported the cease-fire order in paragraph-by-paragraph voting but refused to approve any of the clauses covering mediation.

The council action posed many problems such as where the UN would get an international force if it is found that one is necessary. Under the charter it is up to the Big Five to supply such a force until a regular UN army is established—and Russia and the United States are still far apart on such a permanent unit.

By continuing the truce under a previous council resolution, the decision apparently means a continuation of the arms embargo against both sides and limits on Jewish immigration.

MEAT PRICES DUE TO CLIMB HIGHER

By The United Press

There was more bad news for the housewife at the neighborhood butcher shop today.

With food prices at an all-time high, retail meat dealers feared that the worst is yet to come.

A majority of butchers checked in a nationwide survey said they would have to raise prices again, anywhere from five to 15 cents a pound, to keep pace with the run-away wholesale and livestock prices of the last few days.

George Dressler, executive secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, said that retail meat prices now are the highest in history, surpassing even the price rise that followed the demise of OPA.

Dressler said he feared more price increases are in the offing during the next few days. Retailers have been absorbing wholesale price boosts for the last several months in the belief the market would slide back down, he said.

But now, he said, most retailers have given up hope that prices will level off. They hate to push prices into the stratosphere, he said, because of evidence that consumer resistance again is developing.

But they will have to make "drastic price revisions," Dressler said, to take care of the steady climb of wholesale prices topped off by this week's spectacular ascent.

Dun and Bradstreet reported yesterday that its wholesale food price index hit a new all-time high in the week ended Tuesday. The index is based on prices of 31 foods in general use. But it was the spurt in livestock which sent the index to the record level.

PORTSMOUTH ACTS ON CITY INCOME TAX

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 16—Portsmouth city council yesterday gave first reading to an ordinance calling for a one per cent city income tax. The tax would become effective Oct. 1 and run through 1951.

The city hopes to raise approximately $400,000 yearly through the tax plan.

In taking the action to meet a $30,000 deficit this year and pay for increasing costs of city government, Portsmouth joined Columbus, Springfield, Toledo and Youngstown in imposing an income tax.

These cities already have started collecting the tax. Springfield has a one per cent tax, Columbus one-half of one per cent, Toledo one per cent and Youngstown .3 mills.

The Portsmouth ordinance requires three readings before it becomes effective.

The ordinance provides for a one per cent tax on wages and salaries of all individuals and business in Portsmouth, and on incomes and profits earned in Portsmouth by non-residents.

The provisions are similar to those adopted by the other Ohio cities now collecting the tax.

LaRue Couple Celebrate

MR. AND MRS. A. W. JONES

A half-century of married life is being rounded out today by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones of near LaRue. While no formal celebration will be held the celebrants are planning a day with their family on Sunday.

Mr. Jones, who is 74, and his wife, the former Anna Bell Blue, 70, have lived in their present home for 47 of their 50 years of married life. They have three sons, Vernal, who lives on part of the Jones home farm, Herbert of Newark and Carl of Tucson, Ariz. They also have nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Both are members of Bowling Green Grange, Pomona and Ohio State Granges. Mrs. Jones is a member of the Twentieth Century club, a literary organization of LaRue, and the LaRue Embroidery club.

Part of the golden wedding anniversary will be a visit to the home of their son Carl and family in Tucson in the near future.

The wedding, performed on July 16, 1890, by Squire Kelleher, was the first in the county to take place under the newly-passed internal revenue act requiring a 10-cent stamp to be placed on each marriage license return. According to an item in The Star the squire had some difficulty in making the return. "The squire," the article stated, "hustled around the city this morning to find a ten-cent stamp, but was unable to do so. He was bound to make the return immediately, so he did the next best thing under the circumstances, that is, he placed ten one-cent stamps instead of one, thus having a better chance to display his patriotism." The Internal Revenue act was passed to help pay the Spanish American War debt.

Helping Child Who Stutters.

The person who stutters is unable to speak freely and evenly. He has special difficulty with certain syllables which he may repeat almost endlessly before being able to link them up with those that should follow to form a complete word or phrase. It is estimated that there are at least one million people in the United States who suffer from this stumbling and spasmodic form of speech.

This is perhaps an evidence of our poor handling of our children because it is pretty well established that stuttering has its roots in emotional disturbances during early childhood. If the causes of the child's unhappiness are removed and nothing is done to fix his attention on his disability, it usually disappears without his ever becoming conscious of the problem.

But if, through scoldings and corrections, stuttering becomes ingrained, it is likely to persist through life and to defy all the treatments ever devised to overcome it. In the past these have included everything from surgery to hypnotism. Today, however, emphasis has shifted and it is felt now that best results will be obtained by treating the parents rather than the child, particularly in early cases.

It is of first importance that the child not be made aware that he stutters or is abnormal in any way. To this end, parents must be taught a more tolerant and less critical attitude.

Among the causes of early stuttering are over-stimulation or pampering. In this situation it is impossible for the child to relax, and his nervous tension causes him to stutter.

Over-concern on the part of the parents about the child's eating, plus efforts to force him to eat certain foods may have the same effect.

The mother who hovers over her child constantly, always with a caution or a "don't" on her lips, is simply inviting the child to stutter by depriving him of all freedom and relaxation.

Insecurity due to parental quarrels, frequent changes of residence or disagreements about the child's training, is another cause of stuttering.

Thus, it is plain that before stuttering can be corrected, the particular factor involved in a particular case must be found and eliminated. Once parents are persuaded to give up their mistaken ways, the child usually regains his normal free-flowing speech.

Of course, in older children or in adults where the habit of stuttering has become set, this method of treatment will not avail. The older patient must be taught by more direct means to develop normal, relaxed speech. Both individual and classroom instruction is used to good advantage in these cases and many universities have opened speech clinics where stutterers can be treated.

The important thing for parents to remember is that the stuttering child should be given treatment as soon as the defect develops, because it can then be completely overcome. Later on anything like a complete cure may be impossible. However, it must be remembered that when the child first learns to speak, he may stutter because his thoughts are formed faster than he can express them. This must not be confused with real stuttering.

PROFESSOR AT OSU IS KIWANIS SPEAKER

Dr. Dwight Palmer Discusses Mental Illness.

Dr Dwight Palmer, a professor and director of the department of neuropsychiatry of Ohio State university spoke on "Mental Hygiene at the weekly Kiwanis luncheon meeting at Harding Hotel Thursday.

He discussed the need for greater interest in the welfare of mentally disturbed persons, the need for hospitals specifically designed to bring them back to mental health, saying that one-half the nation's hospital beds are filled with persons who have had some kind of mental illness.

Dr Palmer, who was introduced by Dr Merritt Marshall of the Kiwanis club, said that the mentally ill can be classified into four types 1) the insane 2) the feebleminded, 3) the psychopatic, and 4) the psychoneurotic He said that the state has no hospitals for the care of the psychopathic patients, who are often alcoholics and sexually unbalanced persons, but needs such hospitals badly Ohio State university is building a receiving hospital for psychoneurotics the third in the state Psychoneurosis is a mental disorder caused by the trials and tribulations of life, he said

It was announced that the Kiwanis will send three children—Harold Young, 12 of 170½ North Main street Larry Dall 9, and Sandra Dall, 11, of 194 Erie street—to the Salvation Army camp this week as part of the Kiwanis child welfare program

Ray Reidenbaugh Kiwanis chairman of the Rotary-Kiwanis benefit baseball game between the Marion Cubs and Zanesville Dodgers here next Tuesday distributed tickets to the members urging them to go all out to sell them Money from the tickets will go to the Rotary-Kiwanis Child Welfare Fund

Guests present were Kenneth Nagley Paul Dowler and Walter Hopkins the latter a boy who underwent an operation recently at the expense of the Kiwanis as another part of the Kiwanis child welfare program.

WARREN POSES FOR LITTLE "VOTER" GOP vice-presidential nominee Gov Earl Warren of California flashes his best campaign smile for David Welch 12 of Sacramento who asked him to pose at the railroad station The Governor was on hand to welcome members of his family who had remained in the East after he returned home from the GOP convention

At Democratic Convention

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

PHILADELPHIA

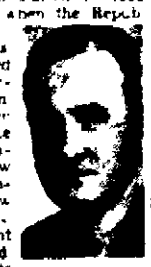
ONE THING stuck in your mind, now that the Democratic convention is over

It's this What chance do the Democrats have of winning the presidency and capturing control of congress in the November elections?

The delegates to the convention know that they have a fight on their hands to beat the Republicans in November

The great string of Democratic victories which started in 1932 broke in 1946 when the Republicans won control of congress

The tide turned against the Democrats then There have been no elections since so there's nothing to show how the tide is running—or how swiftly



James Marlow

With President Roosevelt dead the Democrats have lost his political genius and vote-winning magic

His tight control on the Democratic party held it together President Truman hasn't shown yet that he has the same grip

That's illustrated by the anger and walkout of southern delegates on the convention floor over the civil rights issue Mr Truman made it an issue when he laid down his civil rights program at calling congress back into special session—it's a Republican controlled congress—to pass laws he thinks are needed like stopping inflation and providing housing

THE REPUBLICANS in their 1948 platform of promises of what they'll do if elected they spoke of a desire to put a bridle on inflation

In the special session Mr Truman will give them a chance—in full public view—to meet his requests or—

He'll then certainly go before the country with one attack after another on the Republicans

The action of the Republican controlled congress may be the thing which decides the election this year

It's a bold stroke by Mr Truman. He's taken the lead at this point in an effort to put the Republicans on the defensive

The Associated Press

THEY LIKED THE CAR

By The United Press

FORT WORTH Tex The man and woman said they wanted to try out the used car first by driving it around the block The was the last Charlie Weatherell the dealer saw of them he told police

THE SPLITS and divided thinking in the party—such as over civil rights—doesn't help rally votes either

In winning election to the presidency four times Mr Roosevelt's victories were so large over the country generally that he could have won without the votes of the southern states

But this year no one is predicting any such kind of sweep for the Democratic ticket of Mr Truman and Senator Alben W Barkley of Kentucky

In a close contest with the Republicans the votes of those southern states might mean the difference between victory and defeat for Mr Truman

So he seems likely to suffer if some of the southern states refuse to support him and throw their electoral votes to some one else although not necessarily to a Republican

SO FAR ALL THAT'S been said here has been on the gloomy side of the Democrats chances But a big chance might happen between now and election day in November

For one thing, Mr Truman accepted the nomination Wednesday with a speech that brought the delegates shouting to their feet Until then except for their outbursts of anger over civil rights, the delegates had been a dreary looking crew

If he can continue to spark the politicians of his party he may be able to pump real hope and vote-getting energy into them

He predicted victory for the Democrats and right on the spot opened his campaign with a move that is intended to put the Republicans over a barrel

That's when he announced he is

Negro Youth Club Makes Picnic Plans

A meeting of the Progressive Youth club, a Negro youth organization which is working for improvement of the youthful Negro in leadership and for better social conditions in Marion, was held Thursday night at the YMCA. Plans were discussed for a picnic to be held July 25. Meetings of the club are held each Thursday at 8 p. m. at the YMCA and the public is invited to attend.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

OLINA'S startled gaze — she went to see you in the kind of gown you used to wear at court functions.

"Do I like it" she repeated dreamily, as if she had not yet brought herself back from the vision which I knew the exquisite gown had called up a vision of Georges adoring eyes when he saw her in it. "Oh Dad I love it so much! I never saw anything so lovely never dreamed of anything like it. And to think that I am to be married in it. You are far too good for me."

Nonsense," he said briskly. "Nothing is too good for my daughter."

I knew that his subconscious egotism was voiced in that comment but it was so infused with genuine affection for his stepdaughter and his lavish generosity that I pushed it into the back of my mind and listened to the other things he was saying.

"I am so glad you like it," he said. "And now for I must not keep Charles waiting much longer suppose you undo the other three gowns. Mary's little Faith's and your mother's. Yes dearest," he turned to his wife his eyes brilliant with the adoration which they always held for her. "You will be standing next to the wedding party if not of it and I will be standing next to you."

"Do you remember, Dad, how you used to say that I was your little princess?" Olina asked. "Well I am going to be a princess for a little while. Mary and Faith are my bridesmaids and I am to have a maid of honor and a matron of honor. Oh Dad I am so happy!"

"Then I am happy," he said. "Run along now and get ready for your guests."

Olina kissed him and went to the door. There she turned and looked back at him. "Dad," she said, "I am so glad that you are glad about Charles. I know that you have always disliked him a little."

"Nonsense," he said. "I have always liked Charles. He is a fine boy."

Olina smiled and left the room. Philip Verriten's face changed. He sat down at his desk and began to write.

Olina went to her own room and rang for her maid. "Mary," she said, "I am going to wear the gown I wore to the Governor's ball. Get it out and see that it is pressed."

"Yes, Miss Olina," Mary said. "It is very beautiful. I am glad you are going to wear it again."

"I am glad too," Olina said. "I want to look my best tonight."

Mary went to the closet and took out the gown. "Oh Miss Olina," she said, "I remember how you looked when you wore it before. You looked like a princess in a fairy tale."

"I am going to be a princess in a fairy tale," Olina said. "I am going to be married in it."

"Oh Miss Olina," Mary said, "I am so glad. I am so glad that you are going to be happy. You have been so sad since your mother died."

"I am happy," Olina said. "I am very happy. Mary, I want you to be very careful of this gown. I want to wear it on my wedding day. I want to wear it all my lifetime. I want to see her wear them. And now the other gowns, please."

He adroitly had left no loop hole open for any appeal from his decision and of course, in justice he should have the last word. I remembered the time when he had paid full value for that wonderful necklace of emeralds which Olga had managed to bring away with her and which she had pledged for ransom and had presented them to her on their wedding day.

Olina and Mary brought out Mary's gown next an exquisite thing of embroidered cream net over yellow satin also with garnitures of seed pearls.

"The last question is solved," Olga told me. "Tell Mr. Kennedy yellow orchids for Mary. And now Faith's. Oh won't that basket of sweetheart roses be perfect with that dress."

Every Inch a Soldier

THE passing years had carried General of the Armies Pershing to the ripe old age of 87. They had carried millions of his countrymen away from the first-hand knowledge of his special importance At his death it has become necessary to explain what caused him to be revered

Gen. Pershing was the symbol of the nation's acceptance of worldwide military responsibility to perform its first great military obligation as a world power.

He became what his countrymen wanted him to be—a resourceful, determined and upright military leader. When the war ended in Allied victory, his stature had grown so large that he could have commanded any favor in the country's power.

But he chose to keep on being what he had been since 1882 when he went to West Point—a soldier He did more in his career to lend dignity, understanding and even sympathy to a once-maligned profession than any other American of his time That is why he was respected. It is why his countrymen mourn his death. It is why Gen Pershing will stand proudly in the niche which history has reserved for him long after most of his contemporaries have been forgotten.

The Attack on Togliatti

THE cause of Italian moderates was poorly served when an assassin's bullet felled Palmiro Togliatti. As a result there are strikes and rioting throughout Italy. The incident couldn't have served the communist cause better had it been planned by the Kremlin itself. And that brings up a point worth noting: Communists usually profit by the assassination of one of their leaders

If the cominform, instead of denouncing Tito, had elected to have him secretly rubbed out instead, his death would have enshrined him as a Soviet hero. Yugoslavia and all the other satellites would have been drawn more closely to Russia. Tito would have made the supreme sacrifice for "the cause."

Togliatti was Tito's close friend. On the surface his assailant appears to be a foe of communism. But things aren't always as they appear under communism. The double-double-cross and the shell game without a pea under any shell are familiar devices to Communist politics.

The wounded Togliatti now is a rallying point for Italy's flagging Communist cause Who gave him martyr's status is a nice topic for speculation.

From Theory to Practice

NOW that Marshall Plan funds are available to nations that qualify, the economic cooperation administration' moves from theory to practice. The going isn't smooth.

The law provides that 20 per cent of the funds granted any nation must be in the form of 3 per cent loans repayable in 50 years The 16 Marshall Plan nations want the grants but not the loans at the terms quoted Many already are heavily indebted to the United States, the world bank and the international monetary fund. As a result, not one dollar of the first quarter's loan allocation has been obligated

Marshall plan nations are reluctant to face the task of making their own division of the "kitty," preferring to let the United States make the apportionment, something the U.S. has no intention of doing Beyond that, the recipient nations have done little toward building up secretariats to handle the great mass of detail in connection with the plan.

Domestically, both parties' platforms contain planks endorsing Marshall Plan aid The Democratic plank is an unqualified endorsement; the Republican plank is an endorsement subject to the Marshall Plan nations' cooperation and self-help. On the basis of ECA's loan record to date, the Republicans' qualified endorsement was well-advised

Federal Bonus Talk

THIRTY-ONE states have taken no steps to pay a World War II veterans' bonus. Governor Stevenson of Texas expressed the attitude of some leaders in those states when he said he favored a federal bonus

The states that have authorized bonuses have done so as a token of gratitude to their veterans A federal bonus would keep the veterans in these states still one up on veterans in non-bonus states

Among veterans there has been little talk of a federal bonus This is largely the result of the G.I. Bill of Rights and other federal benefits. These have provided something better than a fixed cash outlay, for they have made benefits available according to need. In some states, notably California, veterans have gone on record as being opposed to bonuses paid without regard to need.

There is an increasing awareness that bonuses must be paid out of the pockets of taxpayers, including veterans. Incidentally, among the states favoring a federal bonus are those most solicitous of states' rights and ever on guard against federal encroachment.

Scanning the Record

A Dewey vs. Truman Appraisal

THE differences in personality between Harry Truman and Tom Dewey will appear fully during the campaign Both, it is true, were born in small towns, both are wedded to family life, both lack that physical stature, that public manner, that startling voice that Hollywood and the radio have made so popular in American politics Both are unquestionably honest men. Both are lovers of music

But there the similarities cease Harry Truman is neither by education nor training prepared for the tremendous tasks which political fortune has thrust upon him and which he now assumes voluntarily. Tom Dewey has spent all his mature years preparing himself for the presidency Harry Truman fears men of superior qualities Although at first he turned to Herbert Hoover, Bernard Baruch, James Byrnes and other experienced citizens for support, he has since surrounded himself with inferior persons cronies of Missouri of his early Washington days, flatterers and fawners but not men of administrative ability or political prescience

Picks Good Men

Tom Dewey built a team of extraordinarily competent men who have been with him since he entered upon a public career. Curiously, an unusually large number of them are around 46 years old as is Dewey himself Some of them were raw material when they cast their lot in the Dewey career; they have been hammered by experience into a competent administrative force which can work together There are no private quarrels, no empire building, no back-biting or back-scratching in this team, whose success is the result of learning to work together over a prolonged period. I know each man and woman on it well and personally, and what those at the Philadelphia convention saw for the first time, I have witnessed for years—as smooth an organization as a Notre Dame football team.

Whereas Truman has had to slap down his assistants publicly and whereas they fight each other in public, the Dewey team does not consist of robots They sit with the governor in council where everything is put on the table, every difference of opinion, every criticism, every gripe As these men have been with him throughout his career, from racket-busting up, they are used to each other and are intimate and they speak frankly—but they do not bicker Decisions are made by the team and once made are carried through

Conference Not Needed

I cite an instance from the Republican convention. When Joe Martin refused to permit Senator Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut to poll his delegation, the Dewey leaders on the floor realized that there would be trouble But no one rushed to the telephone to consult either Dewey or Brownell. When the motion for adjournment came and was booed and hooted, Ed Jaeckle and Russell Sprague decided to announce that New York had no objection to an adjournment They knew that the adjournment was called to stop Dewey, but they did not hesitate. Dewey told me subsequently that he did not know what it all meant and wanted news But his representatives acted on their own I drove from the convention hall with Jaeckle and we were speculating on what Dewey would say about not making a fight on the adjournment Jaeckle finally said, "Nothing Tom delegates That's why it must work. We don't need a conference every five minutes"

Why He "Gets Along"

It is this administrative skill which gives Dewey his competence For he is not all-knowing, all wise And that he is willing to admit That is why he emphasizes team work and why he got along so swimmingly good with the New York legislature A man who recognizes his limitations and has the wisdom to compensate for them is a great administrator. For most of the bottlenecks in business as in government are at the top where often sits a boss who ties important problems into knots because he is incapable of handling them and he will not delegate authority to a big enough man—out of fear or jealousy.

Harry Truman failed just for that reason. A decent, honest, well-meaning man, he lacks the knowledge for his job and the administrative skill to compensate for his limitations by organizing a top-notch team He cannot use big enough men

The Jesse James Legend

By Harry A. McCrea

FROM the Ozarks and the little towns in the Oklahoma hinterland have come occasional reports that Jesse James was still alive.

Sometimes a garrulous oldster would turn up to claim he was the fabled brigand, but the history books haven't been altered. They say Jesse James was slain in his St. Joseph, Mo., home April 3, 1882, by Robert and Charles Ford, friends turned informers.

The latest man representing himself to be Jesse is making some little stir in the west. The editor of the Lawton, Okla., Constitution, who unearthed the story, thought enough of it to devote the entire front page to it and he wrote a special "How I Found Jesse James" article for Editor & Publisher.

If Jesse were alive today, he would be 101. The Lawton editor's candidate is a distinguished looking man with goatee and broad mustache. He has lived for the past 15 years in Centerville, Tex., as J. Frank Dalton. He says the man killed that day in St. Joseph was Charles Bigelow, a Pinkerton detective. This Dalton, or James, says he was willing to let the word get around that he had been killed because he was wanted for a brace of robberies.

Jesse's 71-year-old brother, Robert of Excelsior Springs, Mo., scoffs at the idea his notorious brother is alive, but Al Jennings, an old-time train robber who has met the old man, declares he's Jesse all right. Cynics, however, point out that the San Leandro, Calif., Chamber of Commerce which arranged the meeting in connection with a rodeo it was sponsoring, may have coached the 85-year-old Jennings on what to say in the interests of publicity

All in all, this latest claimant to Jesse's name will generally be regarded as an imposter unless he can point to some of the bullion the original James boys are supposed to have buried Most of the pieces being written about him are done with tongue in cheek

The original Jesse James has become something of a legend The James boys fought the railroad operators, who knew a thing or two about ruthlessness themselves in those days They rode with Quantrill Confederate raiders on the Missouri-Kansas border during the Civil War, and had many friends after the war among the disaffected border state residents who had backed the Confederate cause

"Jesse James," a film made about 1940 starring Henry Fonda, was a fairly successful presentation of the outlaw's story. "Missouri Legend," a stage play of about the same time, also did well in showing how the Jesse James story has made its place in the lore of a region as well as in the annals of crime

When Jesse was slain (if he was slain) he was living under the name of Mr Howard. It was a well chosen name for burnishing his reputation, for the bloody deed has been immortalized in the song about "the dirty little coward that shot Mr Howard"

State Surpluses Melting

STATE expenditures are rising faster than state revenues, according to the Federation of Tax Administrators.

Citing recent Bureau of Census figures, the Federation reports that state revenues rose only 17.8 per cent during fiscal 1947 while state government expenditures for the same period jumped 26.2 per cent.

This rapid rise in out-go reduced the annual excess of revenue over expenditures for the states to its lowest level since 1942.

Among the factors cited as responsible for the increase in 1947 state expenditures were resumption of capital outlay following wartime curtailment, mounting payrolls, higher institutional costs, heavier public assistance loads and increased payments to local governments.

Capital outlay almost trebled Rising labor and material costs boosted operating expenditures more than one-fourth State wage scales which lagged behind those of industry during the war, were boosted by cost-of-living pay raises.

State public welfare costs jumped 25 per cent as case loads increased and the high cost of living necessitated increased public assistance payments An important factor contributing to the heavier case load was the return to public assistance rolls of marginal workers who lost wartime employment

Bonuses to World War II veterans were another significant factor in state expenditures. State aid to local governments in the form of shared taxes and grants-in-aid for specific functions increased 25 per cent and constituted one-third of state government expenditures The increase resulted in part from greater yields from state-collected taxes shared with localities. In addition, however, states expanded their tax sharing and grants-in-aid in recognition of the needs of municipalities and the limitations in many states of local taxing powers.

The federation observed that there is considerable evidence that factors responsible for the 1947 upsurge will push expenditures even higher in 1948 and succeeding years.

Strong Presidents

By Raymond Moley

THE expression "a strong president" is used in academic discussion of government not to indicate virtue, goodness or even success in the office It is used to distinguish those presidents who do not merely confine themselves to administration, but who use the office as a means of influencing congress and public opinion generally Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, Wilson and Franklin D Roosevelt were typically "strong presidents" On the other hand, presidents like McKinley, Taft, Coolidge and Truman carefully keep within the literal constitutional limits of the office, avoid controversy, serve as a mediator with congress and attend strictly to the vast routine of the chief executive.

MOLEY

Dewey will, if elected, certainly belong among the "strong" presidents This is not to say that he will succeed or that he will be wise Time alone will answer that question.

But he will vigorously exercise his great power, offer leadership to congress, influence public opinion and, in Wilson's phrase, become a "national voice."

Dewey's administration of the district attorney's office revealed a tendency to innovate, to appeal to public opinion and to attack vigorously many vested interests which had been undisturbed through the administrations of many predecessors

As governor, Dewey has exhibited the same traits It is true that he has since his candidacy in 1944 refrained from telling his party in congress and in the country what to do For that restraint he has been criticized But in New York he has unhesitatingly accepted leadership. He has, without offense, let people know who is governor. He has dominated his political captains and generals He has tactfully moved his legislatures to pass many new and original pieces of legislation. He has put new blood and methods into his state departments

And this has been in striking contrast to his predecessor, Herbert H. Lehman, who served 10 years in the office Lehman was regarded as a good governor. He won three reelections and retired with honors But he was no innovator, as were Al Smith and Franklin D Roosevelt before him. He was not, in the sense described above, a "strong" governor.

When Truman entered the White House he received a grant of good feeling from the public. Here, it was said, is a man who knows he is no superman He will give us quiet good sense—and so forth

Such public demonstrations for the average are always brief. The strong president endures. He may be attacked and reviled, and he may be defeated. But he is a factor in government and a maker of opinion. The Constitution was written to accommodate a strong president. The rule, rather than the exception, will be the president who leads Dewey will fit that prescription.

Reds Keep Close Check on Austrians

By The Associated Press

VIENNA — A high Austrian government source says Russian military authorities have made increasingly stiff demands upon local civil authorities in their zone of occupation for detailed reports on almost every phase of public life in certain sections

Although Russian troops had been removed from some of the areas nearly two years ago, Russian officers recently approached local Austrian officials with verbal orders to list all former Nazis and all foreigners residing in the area, to report on all political parties and their activities and to report three days in advance on all public meetings to be held—even traditional religious processions.

The Russian officers also asked for complete local police rosters and demanded that any changes in personnel be reported immediately. They wanted lists of all hotels including details as to their capacity and the names of their owners. Post offices were told to submit lists of newspapers coming into the area and the number of each distributed. All lectures and speeches by public officials had to be reported verbatim and they also demanded that each political party secretary give detailed account of the activities of his party on 10th and 20th of each month. And local officials were told to turn over lists of all trucks and other vehicles, all garages and names of their owners.

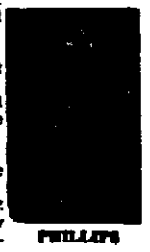
"He's been that way since last night," said Mrs Twitchell to the doctor.

"Take it easy, Elmer," urged the medico

"I decline to take it easy' And if nominated to take it easy I shall decline to run Down with banners' Kill that brass band' Throw the tenors out'" rambled Elmer "I know who you are"

"Who am I'" asked the doctor



PHILLIPS

"You're Dan Whoom first cousin of Than Whoom How are all the little Than Whoomers' What's that noise under the bed?... Sounds like a peerless leader."

* * *

"Relax," said the doctor

"Relax is okay with me for second place on the ticket' Sounds good! Relax, the People's Choice' But will Relax take it'"

"Try to pull yourself together," urged Mrs. Twitchell

"Together with whom and on what ballot'" shouted Elmer "I pulled myself together but lost under the unit rule Take that delegation off the chiffonier' W." Mrs Twitchell please be in order and stop milling about in the aisles'"

"Everything is going to come out all right," assured the doctor soothingly

"How about Texas' Can I depend on Georgia at this point" Please pass the shortcake .. And while you're at it pass South Carolina' . For what purpose does the doctor rise'"

"I'm here as a good friend," said the doctor.

"Your planks are showing," said Elmer

"Know what's wrong with me'" demanded Elmer "My gavel is busted' Look at my tongue'"

"Your tongue looks all right," said the doctor

"That's what you think It won't televise properly Grab Mrs Twitchell, quick'"

"I'm not doing anything," put in the wife

"You're about to second a nomination Or sing the national anthem off key You have a female convention voice And listen, your foreign policy ain't on straight."

* * *

The doctor took Elmer's wrist to get his pulse

"Leggo my hand," yelled Twitchell "Pennsylvania just took my pulse and a delegate demanded that the delegation be polled If there is further noise the galleries will be cleared .. Swat that tenor' A man than whom-m-m .. Ted Williams casts 42 votes for the American League Waiter, take this soup away .. There's a platform in it."

* * *

"There is nothing much I can do," said the doctor, hopelessly

"You can call the roll can't you'" demanded Elmer "These are crucial times The world calls for leadership, with mayonnaise on rye"

"Plain case of Philadelphus conventionists" said the doctor "It's common all over the country Did he attend it'"

"No, but he had both a radio and television set," admitted Mrs Twitchell.

"That's it," yelled Elmer "Television Video' Down with shimmying faces' Kill that double chin' Away with five o'clock shadow' Who won, the Red Sox or Truman' .. Look, the ears are coming through okay but the eyes and noes are off the beam Try Channel Five'"

THREE thousand eye specialists are being sued by the Department of Justice for alleged splitting of fees with optical firms This would seem a case for that federal body known as the Eye See See.

It seems to us that Harry Truman can run as having the greatest escape act since Houdini. Handcuffed and locked inside a sealed trunk he is thrown overboard but comes up dry, smiling unfettered and all set for another performance

The big problem of many delegates at Philadelphia was how to cheer for Harry Truman and still be able to prove that those scalping knives in their possession were just nail files.

CAN YOU REMEMBER—

Away back when, if you dropped a quarter, somebody would bother to pick it up?

Hi—Do you remember away back when a woman ordering a loaf of bread was asked, "Do you want the five or ten cent size?" Arthur McElroy.

Who's on 1st?

By TRUMAN TWILL

It's the last of the sixth There are runners on 2nd and 3rd with two out and Hank Hulk is up. The count—two and one The pitcher looks back at the outfield, rubs up a new ball and . . .

"Where did you leave my nail file after you fixed the alarm clock, dear?" she asks. "I need it."

Both runners have taken long leads and will be ready to move on this pitch Here it is

"I don't see why you insist on using my nail file when you have all those tools in the basement If you ask me, you are too lazy to get them and when you do get them you never take them back Isn't that so?"

Ball three, almost a wild pitch. Both runners go back to the bag. The catcher is asking for a new ball The umpire looks at the old one and hands it back The catcher says something to him. Hulk steps out of the box. He picks up some dirt

"I heard this afternoon that the Zilch girl—the one who married that no-account fellow from New York—is coming home. I wouldn't think she'd have the brass to do it. Did you ever hear about the time she struck her own mother?"

Strike two, called Hulk didn't like that one He is talking to the umpire. But it won't do any good He calls 'em as he sees 'em. But wait, Hulk is moving in closer, he is . . .

"Well, just let me tell you that if anyone ever did that to me I'd step right over to the telephone and call the police. Don't forget when you pay the telephone bill to tell them we want a different line unless those other people quit talking 45 minutes at a stretch"

The umpire walks away and Hulk is back in the box The count is three and two Both runners will be off with this pitch. The pitcher is taking his time He has his glove off rubbing the ball Now he's ready He looks at 3rd He throws a side-arm

At Democratic Convention

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

PHILADELPHIA

POLITICAL conventions are getting more and more animal.

Unless Hank Wallace can pull a rabbit out of his hat at the national conclave of his Third party here next week, he may have difficulty in impressing the dazed citizens of the city of brotherly love.

Because the Republican and Democratic conventions have convinced them that politics is going zoological. They are getting fond of the fauna.

HAL BOYLE

It's been a refreshing course in nature study for many grown-ups whose only other recent contacts with the animal world have been a few prejudiced slaps at mosquitoes or breakfast interviews with the end products of absent hens.

The parade of the four footed folk here began with the arrival of "Little Eva" who came with one trunk and a worried look to support the president al candidacy of Senator Robert Taft.

She won many hearts and has the happy memory of shaking hands with the senator. But somebody slapped a court order on this small fugitive from a circus. And what happened to Taft left many admirers of the elephant Doomp-eyed.

Then came a national convention of the sure-footed Elks, who had their political problems solved in lodge exposure.

No sooner was the last weary antler cut of town than the donkey stevedore of the Democrats began. And a few of the delegates lived right up to the traditional stubbornness of the animal on their placards. They walked right out of the party harness, and are still ambling in southern pastures.

BUT THE FINAL touch was ornithological. The friendly allied florists of Philadelphia, who had put together a 4,000-flower American flag for the Republicans, outdid themselves for the Democrats.

They plucked 6,000 red roses, white carnations, blue corn flowers and green and bronze magnolia leaves. And they fashioned them into a gigantic floral liberty bell. And beneath the bell they cooped up 48 pigeons to represent doves of peace.

The idea was that after President Truman arrived on the platform the pigeons were to be loosed and soar up like man's ancient white hope of a world free of war.

BUT PIGEONS AND peace are hard to regulate. Nobody had bothered to bruf the birds. When they were released it was long past midnight, well beyond their bedtime hour. They stuck drowsily in their cramped cote. For them it was too late for liberty.

"Shoo" and convention chairman Sam Rayburn at Texas. "Shoo".

Most of the pigeons apparently weren't from Mississippi or Alabama. They just wouldn't walk out. A few finally did bolt the coop—but they whirred aimlessly around, zipped through the white hair of a platform dignitary, or settled on nearby electric fans waiting for Truman to speak.

It was just a case where people for once were having more fun than pigeons.

THE PIGEONS FLOPPED where they should have flapped. But after weeks of elephants, elks, donkeys and pigeons, Ben Franklin's old home town won't feel Hank Wallace is in step with political trends unless he arrives with some animal emblematic of what his party stands for.

A safe bet would be a watchdog, long known as man's best friend. Wallace can't bring a red herring—that's what he says his enemies are dragging across his trail toward the White House.

But he should show up with something. Politics have become like vaudeville—there has to be an animal act for man, the political animal.

Blames Prices On Buyers

Grocers Aide Says Public Now Demands More Luxury Foods.

By The United Press

CHICAGO, July 16—The grocers themselves urged housewives today to stop buying high-priced foods.

The National Association of Retail Grocers said that there is one sure way of beating high food prices— stop paying them.

Mrs. R. M. Kiefer, secretary-manager of the association blamed part of the recent wave of price increases on consumers.

"Americans have larger appetites today than they had before the war," she said, "and they seem to prefer luxury foods. Thus far they have made little effort to curtail their purchases of these foods and consequently prices of some of these foods which are in short supply are forced up to unnatural levels."

She advised housewives to take steaks, chops and roasts off their shopping lists.

Plan Campaign

Meanwhile the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Workmen's Union announced plans for a nationwide campaign to bring the price of meat down to "reasonable levels."

"If prices don't come down the government must restore controls on meat," said Union President Earl W Jimerson.

The union previously had advocated the removal of price ceilings on meat as a means of increasing production.

At New York, the New York State association of retail meat dealers, representing 3,000 butchers, said it would sponsor a public mass meeting to demand congressional act on on meat prices.

At Chicago Charles H Bromann Jr., executive secretary of Associated Food Dealers, Inc., said his group approved the idea. The organization represents 2,350 independent shops in the Chicago area.

"For the first time in the history of our organization," he said, "we indorse consumer resistance as a means of protesting against high meat prices."

Operate at Loss

Bromann said retail butchers are operating at a loss, even with today's record high prices, because of the cost of wholesale meat.

At Washington, the agriculture department reported that wholesale and retail milk prices climbed to record high levels early this month. Retail prices of standard milk, home delivered, in 24 cities averaged 20.8 cents a quart, the department said.

It also reported that average prices of foods increased 7/10 of 1 per cent last week.

JEWISH STATE TOPIC OF TALK

Wesley M. E. Pastor Traces History at Exchange Club Meeting.

Dr Brown A Brown, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church, was speaker at the weekly meeting of the Exchange club Thursday at Hotel Harding. His topic was Israel, the new Jewish state in Palestine.

He spoke of the troubles between the Jews and the Arabs and traced the history of the Zionist movement to its ultimate result in partition of Palestine in the formation of the Jewish state.

The Zionist movement was not religiously inspired, Dr Brown said. To the Jews, it was not the fulfillment of the Biblical prophecy of their return to "the promised land." The movement had more political and economic motivation in that Palestine offered a haven for the displaced Jews in war-torn Europe, he said.

History Reviewed

Dr Brown traced the history of the friction between the Jews and the Arabs, including the British mandate over Palestine under the Balfour Declaration following World War I, relinquished only this year after 30 years of futile effort to bring accord between the two peoples.

He said there are a million Arabs in Palestine and only half that many Jews, 400,000 of whom emigrated to Palestine in the past quarter century. The Arabs consider Palestine their homeland and fear losing out entirely with the formation of the new Jewish state. The Arabs base their fear in part, on the Jewish demands for unrestricted immigration which they feel will result in Jewish domination of Palestine, Dr Brown said.

Sentiment Divided

The Jews themselves are not entirely of one mind about the formation of the new state, he declared, pointing to the more than 125,000 Jews in Iraq who opposed its formation. They fear their settlements will be jeopardized through Arab reprisals. Other Jewish leaders who doubt the new state will solve their troubles include the president of the Hebrew university in Palestine, he said.

Meeting next week will be held at the Snyder hotel, it was announced.

C. & O. EQUIPMENT PROGRAM APPROVED

Special to The Star

CLEVELAND July 16 — The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co said it was notified today that the interstate commerce commission has approved issuance of $3 500 000 of fifteen equipment trust certificates of 1948 to finance purchase of 12 locomotives including two coal-burning steam turbine-electric engines

The commission's order, issued late yesterday followed an ICC hearing at which George Jackson of New York a C & O stockholder appeared as an intervener and opposed the sale of the securities Jackson contended that the C and O is not in need of the equipment proposed to be acquired—especially the steam turbine-electric locomotives— and furthermore, that passenger operating losses experienced in 1947 would justify the commission in prohibiting the issuance of the securities. The commission found however that the intervener (Jackson) did not support these allegations at the hearing."

The ICC said performance of the steam turbine-electric locomotive in service at present "is satisfactory and observed

It is a matter of common knowledge that passenger operations in genera are conducted at a loss on a great many railroads Nevertheless the transportation of passengers mail and express is a necessary public service and we are not persuaded that the losses suffered by the applicant in furnishing such service would constitute grounds for a denial of this application"

C & O officials testifed at the hearing the railway probably will seek to issue two more trusts before the end of 1948 in amounts of $3 600 000 and $5 600 000 representing approximately 100 percent of the cost of equipment to be acquired

Clare Luce Reports On Boost of Truman Stock After Acceptance Speech

By CLARE BOOTHE LUCE

PHILADELPHIA—A midnight on the first day of the nomination of Harry Truman's political stock—and with it his party—was at an all time low. For a week the delegates had been beating their brains out in an effort to defeat his nomination. But they couldn't find somebody to pin it on. And they were getting fed up with Truman. They were mentally exhausted. And sure Monday there had been a fight behind the scenes between the southern racists and the Truman moderate civil rights forces. Now suddenly the battle had moved out onto the floor, where both groups were outflanked and outfought by the ADA or northern Roosevelt liberal forces, who captained by Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis, jammed through a civil rights resolution which made even the Truman compromisers eat their high-brown Jim Crow. This unexpected second battle of the Appomattox had exhausted the delegates emotionally. Then came what someone called the drooling in the gruelling—the interminable drone of the nomination and seconding speeches. This was followed by the 34 minute planned spontaneous demonstration with its inevitable howling, roaring, bobbing, jigging and parading.

Clare Boothe Luce

The hall, even with its doors open to the rainy night was like the inside of a boiler. Then at about 9:30 the secret service had cleared the doors. The tortured delegates were, for a while unaware that this was because the President had arrived — as it turned out four hours too soon. Grumbling and sweating under the hellish glare of the battery of television lights, they were in a mood to believe that it was a last desperate maneuver to keep either the whole south from following Alabama into the rain-cooled outer darkness, or to prevent Sen Barkley from bolting, on the grounds that he had never done anything to deserve such a cruel and unusual punishment as the vice-presidential nomination.

Full of Fight

Second it was full of fight. And it had to do drama climax. He announced he would summon the 80th congress into session on July 26 — Turnip day as he called it. And there before election day he would give the Republicans a real chance to deliver on their platform promises to pass anti inflation, housing, educational and civil rights legislation.

This was action. The delegates roared with approval. The convention took hope. It borrowed courage and confidence from its candidate.

Yes here the delegates reflected was a man of considerable political parts. Already he had licked the two worst elements in his own party — the southern white supremists and the northern protocommunists who had already left the party under Wallace. Perhaps this fellow Truman (they thought) was a real liberal—and therefore a winner after all—pity of course (they thought) he couldn't do all this without losing the votes of the southerners and the Wallacites—the way FDR had. But who knows? Perhaps such sincerity and integrity would pick up votes from the Republicans. And so the catastrophe Democrats fear.

Tension Is Poor

By 1 a.m. when rumor had reached even the galleries that the President and the white had been sitting outside in the sidewalk waiting for the proper moment to make his entrance, many felt that any possible proper moment had long since passed. His failure to time his arrival properly and Rep Rayburn's to get him on the air before everybody in the nation sensibly trundled off to bed seemed to be the final omen of the party's unhappy future.

No acceptance speech was ever set to be a bigger flop than Mr Truman's.

Then some time after 0 o'clock a crisp bronzed young gray-haired man in a white tech suit stepped onto the platform. The candidate. The reception, again according to radio was loud—but not deep warm or long.

He came to the microphone his thick glasses twinkling in the white lights. And then the delegates and the galleries were amply rewarded for the long terrible unhappy week. For they witnessed a telephoto flash between the courage and confidence of a candidate and his party's defeatism and despair.

Mr Truman won.

For he won because his speech was delivered in plain talk. It was down-to-earth one guy-to-another, he's-sticking-by-a-barrel pullman-car Elks Buffoon Moose Mason American Legion language. And was it ever full of fight.

New Teachers Complete Upper Sandusky Staff

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 16 — Two new teachers hired at a recent special meeting of the board of education will complete the staff for the Upper Sandusky public schools for the coming year.

Miss Hazel Dobbins of Marion county has been employed to teach elementary music replacing Miss Mercedes Blue who resigned. Miss Dobbins is a graduate of Baldwin-Wallace college, Berea. She is now serving as counselor and accompanist for the summer band and choral clinic there.

Miss Lois Perry of Lakeview, O., an Ohio Northern university graduate, has been employed as a high school instructor of English and dramatics. Miss Perry was employed in the Bellefontaine High school last year.

MEEKER CLUB MEETS

Projects for the year were discussed when the Meeker Junior 4-H club met recently at the home of Larry Sims. The next meeting will be at the home of Ralph and George Weng.

WALDO CLUB MEETS

A weiner roast was held by the Waldo Stick and Sew 4-H club Wednesday night at the home of Flain Furniss in Waldo. Plans were made for a picnic lunch at the next meeting to be held at 12:30 p.m. July 23 at the school. At a meeting held recently at the home Betty Fogle was in charge of a business session and for all the members named a favorite flower. Work on projects was under the supervision of Mrs. Ralph Williams club adviser. Marilyn Neville and Peggy Criswell were in charge of entertainment.

Korean was the name given to the northeastern Asia country by Europeans. Orientals call the country Chosvin.

the delegates for the most part went home far happier than they ever thought they would.

Nobody in the hall seemed to notice much that Mr Truman had done considerable demagogging. His homespun manner had concealed all that. Few stopped to comment on the fact which in a Roosevelt speech would have been instantly noticed—that he had managed to tell the American people that the wage of farmers and factory workers had increased greatly thanks to Truman policies but that the resultant inflation was the fault of the Republicans. And few seemed disturbed by the thought that real trouble Mr Truman would have with his civil rights legislation in the reconvened 80th congress would come from senate and house members on the Democratic side of the aisle.

(Chapter one had ended quite happily. But the end of the Philadelphia story was not yet.

CHARGES U.S. FIRES ROCKETS

American Officers Say Russian Complaint Is Without Foundation.

By The United Press

BERLIN, July 16—Russian authorities charged today that American planes fired rockets over the Soviet Adlershof air field last night.

U. S. air force officers said investigation on the Soviet charge of rocket firing proved that it was without foundation.

Officials regarded the Soviet complaint as another move in the campaign to build up a case for prospective Russian efforts to block the air lanes to Berlin, the last channels open to the western powers.

Russians Complain

The Russians registered their complaints with the four-power air safety control center. They simply said an American plane fired rockets over the field last night, and did not amplify.

Adlershof Field is in the Soviet sector of Berlin, near the terminus of the air corridors from the west where American airmen turn for landings at Templehof in the U. S. sector.

Soviet officers at the four-power air safety control center posted notice that Yak fighters would be operating in three areas along the Anglo-American corridors today.

As usual the overall Soviet notices gave no times, altitudes or numbers of planes involved. British authorities charged yesterday that this Soviet practice violated four-power agreements for air safety operations.

A German official reported that the Soviet command had drawn up a timetable for forcing the western powers out of Berlin within eight weeks provided the air shuttle can be crippled.

Believe Vienna Curbs Ahead

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, July 16—The western powers are studying the possibility that Russia soon may order transportation curbs in Vienna, Austria, similar to the Berlin blockade, it was disclosed today.

Authoritative sources said the United States, Britain and France "wouldn't be surprised" if the Soviets suddenly imposed such restrictions. Vienna is situated deep in the Soviet-occupied zone of Austria, and is the only city except Berlin under full four-power control.

Some western diplomats believe Moscow's rejection of three-power demands for lifting of the Berlin blockade carried the threat that similar measures might be under consideration for Vienna.

It was pointed out that the Russian notes to the western nations emphasized that "both Berlin the capital of Germany, and Vienna, the capital of Austria . . . were captured only by troops of the Soviet army."

RED STRIKES BROKEN BY FORCE IN ITALY

By The Associated Press

The Communist general strike in Italy broke up today against the rock-like stand of the De Gasperi government. New disorders erupted in Bologna, Milan and Palmero, however, in the aftermath of the shooting of Palmiro Togliatti, darling of Moscow and leading Italian Red.

Fist fighting disrupted the chamber of deputies where the Communists were trying to unseat Premier Alcide De Gasperi who announced he would use force to break the insurrection. Togliatti developed pneumonia from his three wounds.

Moscow newspapers were filled with protests over the shooting of Togliatti, considered the Kremlin's best operative outside Russia.

The Communists called off their general strike at noon. A back to work movement had started yesterday. Police and troops moved vigorously to put down rioting in which at least 13 persons were killed and more than 100 injured.

Marion Police Going To State Convention

Other Marion policemen and associates will attend sessions of the convention as their time permits, the department reported today.

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method. The examination is free.

SLAYER SCHEDULED TO DIE IN CHAIR

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 16 — Elmer Curnutt, a 21-year-old transient is scheduled to die in Ohio's electric chair tonight.

The youth, a native of Olga, Ky., was convicted in the holdup slaying of an aged Cincinnati cafe owner last Dec. 2.

His last chance to avoid paying the supreme penalty was removed yesterday when Gov. Thomas J. Herbert refused to grant a stay of execution. Members of the State Pardon and Parole Commission recommended the death penalty be carried out.

His uncle, Ova Curnutt, also was sentenced to death for the Dec. 2 slaying. The older man subsequently was granted an indefinite stay of execution after the nephew issued a statement saying the uncle was not involved.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis said Elmer Curnutt ordered a last meal of southern fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, tomato and lettuce salad, peas, hot rolls and butter, ice cream and cake, milk, lemonade and cigarets.

Several brothers and sisters visited him yesterday, the Warden said. The youth's parents did not see him.

Curnutt will be the second man electrocuted at the Mid-Town, 114-year-old prison this month. Clifford Gayles, 34-year-old Xenia Negro, was put to death July 3 for the kidnap-slaying of a housewife.

The penitentiary's death row currently has 13 occupants.

U.S. B-29 FLEET ON WAY TO EUROPE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16 — The air force announced today that 60 B-29's are enroute to England for a "short" training visit there.

The big bombers, comprising two groups, will make the trip over two routes, one by way of Labrador and the other via Bermuda.

In England, USAF officials said, the American formations will be guests of the Royal air force, using three RAF bases while there.

While there was no announcement from the air force, it was considered probable that some of the B-29's will make training flights out of England to United States bases in Germany.

The Superfortresses are crossing the Atlantic in the wake of the American cargo plane fleet recently sent into Germany to fly food into Soviet-blockaded Berlin.

The training trip greatly augments U. S. air strength in Europe at a time when Russia is threatening to slam shut the air corridors into the bleaguered German capital.

DELEGATES TO AVOID SPECIAL CONFERENCE

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 16 — Gov. Ben T. Laney of Arkansas indicated here today that neither he nor the state's other delegates to the Democratic national convention earlier this week will attend a conference of some southern leaders in Birmingham tomorrow.

He told newsmen that the legal status of the delegation ended with the close of the convention in Philadelphia, and added:

"I may return if invited, but not as a delegate from my state."

Laney made the statement at the Union terminal, where the train on which he was returning home from Philadelphia, stopped for 15 minutes.

Adoption of a national platform containing a so-called civil rights plank caused some southern delegates to leave the convention.

"The south has been severely hurt," Gov. Laney said. "We were shamefully treated."

The Arkansas governor called the plank far more dangerous than you folks in the north realize."

"The plank covers far more than just racial issues," he declared. "It can be made to cover a lot of things and you folks in the north better realize that."

"The convention found much amusement in our fight, but it may turn out to be not so funny for everybody."

CROWD BOOS FELLER DURING NIGHT GAME

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, July 16—They booed Bob Feller in his first diamond appearance after the All-Star game, but the fireballing Cleveland pitcher said today it didn't bother him.

"What do you think I am, a rookie?" he asked.

When Cleveland's Indians took on the Philadelpia Athletics in a twi-night doubleheader last night, Feller and his mates were greeted by a five-foot banner draped over a boxseat behind first base. It read:

"Send him back to the farm, Boudreau. Feller is a quitter."

The Van Meter, Iowa, right-hander did not pitch, but bobbed up and down in the dugout and once threw a few warmup pitches. He's scheduled to pitch against the A's tonight.

Some of the crowd chanted "Boo, Feller" and "cry baby."

Feller said today that "I'm a pitcher and I don't want to get mixed up in this thing. I'm not a bawl baby and I'm not going to spend all my time apologizing either for myself or the ball club."

The fuss started when Manager Bucky Harris of the New York Yankees, who was the American league pilot in Tuesday's All-Star game, criticized Feller for declining to pitch in the interleague contest.

Later Lou Boudreau, the Cleveland manager, and the club's owner, Bill Veeck, said they did not permit Feller to pitch in the All-Star game because he was needed for the important series with the Athletics.

UAW WORKERS REJECT LAST FORD WAGE BID

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 16—The CIO-United Auto Workers, bolstered by the crushing rejection of a "final" Ford wage offer prepared today to set the date for a nationwide strike against the huge Ford Motor Co.

The union's Ford National council, representing the company's 116,000 workers in its 46 plants, was unanimous in rejecting the offer and in authorizing a strike.

It granted international approval for union officials to set the date, word on Ken Bannon, national Ford director. He probably will hold up action until the UAW-CIO executive meets Monday.

The rejection by the 100-man council was not unexpected. Wednesday night union spokesmen greeted Ford's 13-cent hourly raise offer with an attack on the company's position terming the offer inadequate.

It was a question whether bargaining sessions would be resumed before the setting of a strike date.

Industrialist Recovers From Illness in Africa

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 16 — A Cleveland industrialist, Albert J. Weatherhead Jr., has cut short an African big game hunt because of illness.

He became ill in the bush country about 200 miles from Nairobi, Kenya colony. After he was taken to Nairobi by automobile over rough terrain, Col. C. V. Thornton, a Nairobi doctor, said he was "lucky to be alive."

Following an operation, he is recovering nicely and expects to fly to London Tuesday on the way home.

Weatherhead is the founder of a concern manufacturing auto and aviation fittings.

18-YEAR-OLDS NOW MAY JOIN SERVICES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16 — Eighteen-year-olds who want to avoid being drafted next year can start volunteering in the armed forces next Wednesday, July 21.

The date was set yesterday by Secretary of Defense Forrestal.

Under the draft law, all young men 18 through 25 must register, but none can be drafted until reaching the age of 19.

However, 18-year-olds become draft-subject on their 19th birthday—unless they're already in service for a special one-year hitch, followed by a longer period in the reserves.

The new law limits the annual total of these enlistments to: Army 110,000; Navy 36,000, including 6,000 Marines; Air Force 15,000. For the first four weeks after July 21, the Army will accept 10,000 men, Navy-Marines 3,000, Air Force 1,300.

HOUSING TOPS USSR DOMESTIC HEADACHES

By The Associated Press

YELLOW SPRINGS, O., July 16—The housing shortage is the biggest domestic problem facing Russia, the fifth annual institute on international relations was told last night.

Valery J. Tereshtenko, who spent 15 months in the Soviet Union as a chief supply officer for a UNRRA mission, said 60 to 75 per cent of Russia's major cities was destroyed in World War II and her building industry wrecked.

"Not only is any building halted," he said, "but a housing rehabilitation program is impossible without first reconstructing the heavy industries."

He predicted that the possibility of another war was "slight."

Tire Directors Vote Plant Closing Delay

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., July 16—Directors of the Pharis Tire & Rubber Co. voted at a meeting in New York yesterday to delay two weeks any decision on closing the company's plant here.

Further Marshall, president of the company, reported in a telephone conversation following the meeting that an attempt will be made within the next two weeks to settle differences between the company and the CIO United Rubber Workers local 21.

The plant, which employs 1,200, has been closed since May 1. The company said it was unable to operate because of high production costs and the union's wage demands.

ROAD RELOCATION HEARING SET HERE

Would Eliminate Dangerous Curve on Route 529.

The state highway department will hold a public hearing here July 28 on a proposed road relocation project to eliminate a dangerous curve on Route 529 in Richland township, it was announced today by Walter W. Johnson, county engineer.

The hearing will be conducted at 10 a. m. in the Marion county common pleas court room.

The project involves constructing 46 mile of new road in doing away with the sharp curve on Route 529 just east of the intersection with the Mautz-Yeager road. Present road will be kept open and revert back to county jurisdiction, according to state plans.

Peach Growers Expect Poor Crop This Season

By The United Press

CLYDE, O., July 16 — Peach growers in this area today foresaw a dismal prospect for the coming harvest season.

Growers reported that March freezes destroyed many buds and only those in the extreme tops of many trees escaped unharmed. Although the harvest is some time away, they expected less than half a crop.

KENTON ARMORY JOB TO BE READVERTISED

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., July 16—The entire reconstruction project on the Kenton National Guard armory gutted by fire last December, will be readvertised for bids sometime in August.

Kenneth R. Warman, engineer for the State Adjutant General reported today that the office was redesigning the roof to use arched trusses for support in place of steel beams.

The redesigning will take approximately two weeks more, Warman said. When the plans are complete the project will be readvertised.

No bids were received up to the deadline early this week on the reconstruction project, with all contractors contacted citing the shortage of steel beams for their inability to bid.

Bids were received on the plumbing and electrical work but they were rejected because they were over the estimates. All phases of the work will be included in the new bid offer.

Although gutted, the sturdy walls of the armory remained standing and can be reused, Adjutant General Chester W. Gobie said.

FORMER COP ACCUSED OF TAKING $80,000

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 16 — The state's case against former police Lieutenant Ernest L. Molnar centered today around at least $63,305 of expenditures in a 16-year period when his salary averaged less than $3,000 a year

Molnar is accused of accepting bribes from gamblers and policy game operators for a total of about $80,000.

Saul S. Danaceau of the county prosecutor's staff presented records to show Molnar paid out more than $63,000 to educate two sons, engage in real estate deals, pay doctor bills and buy automobiles and bonds Living expenses were not included in the records

Robert Gambrill testified for the state that he was a cashier for Lute Lutzman, a policy game operator and each month wrapped for our Civil War armies led to up $1,500 in cash for delivery to the discovery of means to raise Molnar The prosecution claims the boiling temperature of water the one-time police officer accepted the bribes as protection money beyond 212 degrees—which was insufficient to kill food bacteria.

RADIO LICENSE DENIED PAPERS

FCC Turns Down Applications for Mansfield and Lorain Stations.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 16 The Mansfield News-Journal and the Lorain Journal were denied radio broadcasting licenses yesterday on the ground they were [illegible] the FCC said the papers would [illegible] of the market

A majority decision by the Commissioners Robert F Jones and George E Sterling said the papers were qualified for the services

The papers are owned by Hardesty and S A Horvitz papers in Cleveland Hardesty is president and S A is publisher

The owners of the Mansfield Journal the major [illegible] said they sought radio licenses to [illegible] of news and information and to achieve an advertising monopoly through the use of exclusive advertising contracts.

Majority Opinion.

The majority decision made these findings

The Mansfield Journal proposed to carry the programs of station WMAN the only other medium of mass communication in the area It refused advertising from the station and kept its daily news about the activities of local area residents

The papers purchased were designed to prevent the broadcasting of the WMAN and attempted to coerce other advertisers into exclusive advertising contracts

The two papers under their present ownership were to acquire substantial facilities in addition to the radio newspaper ownership respectively [illegible] situation would exist the majority report said

"Competition in the dissemination of news and information would be suppressed and undue pressure would be exerted on advertisers who require the use of the only daily newspaper in the area for the business to obtain exclusive advertising [illegible]

In our view the [illegible] would be [illegible] with the public interest

Minority Report

Jones and Sterling in the minority report said the record of the case made it apparent that the Mansfield papers competitive practices "seem to be entirely within the realm of normal conduct of a private business enterprise and particularly one in the newspaper publishing industry

The minority report said it saw "no reason to conclude that all of the business practices engaged in by these newspaper companies appear to be against the public interest in the operation of the broadcasting stations

Both companies have proposed to employ the [illegible] have conducted campaigns in their [illegible] interest participated in [illegible] charity drives and taken a very active part in civic affairs the report continued It added that the "entire record" of the case showed no specific violations of law or regulations by the papers

The applications denied involve two standard and one FM licenses

Laurence W Hardy trading as the Fostoria O Broadcasting Co was found qualified "in every way" to establish a new station on the same frequency sought by the Mansfield paper Approval of the application was held up however pending a general action on rules for a station of that frequency

CAT CAUSES PILE-UP IN 8th RACE; DRIVER, HORSE HURT

Marion Slane in Hospital, Pacer's Leg Believed Broken

By GEORGE SCOTT

A cat was the cause of a three-way collision involving one injury in the eighth race at the fairgrounds last night

Going into the first turn of the mile run on the south end of the track, Merry Mite threw her driver, Clair Baker of Richwood when a cat jumped onto the track Dignity, driven by Marion Slane of Van Wert, and Hi Pete, driven by Banty Severns of Ohio City were directly behind Merry Mite and crashed into the 12-year-old bay mare

The Marion City hospital reported Slane suffered concussion and minor bruises His condition is described as not serious Both Baker and Slane were taken to the hospital in an ambulance Baker was released last night and Banty Severns was uninjured

Many of the crowd of 3 000 racing fans had left before the eighth race but those remaining continued to stand long after the contest had ended. All were shocked by the suddenness of the crash

Ankle Believed Broken

Presiding Judge W E Mercer reported that Merry Mite's ankle is believed broken She has been taken to the Ohio State University hospital in Columbus Hi Pete completed the race driverless

The accident took some of the glory from Amy Grattan who set a new time record for the mile in this season's meet. The nine-year-old black mare covered the half-mile oval twice in 2.08 to better the mark set by Barefoot G. on the second night of racing by two-fifths of a second.

Driven by Walt Dispanette, she pulled away from Barefoot G, who couldn't duplicate his last performance, and won by 15 lengths Ripplemite was third in a field cut to four by the collision Barefoot G led at the half-mile but Amy Grattan had it last night and there was no stopping her the second time around. Owned by H H Thurman, Amy Grattan is the same pacer who holds the world's record for a third of a mile track set in 1944 with Dispanette driving

Pete Wait to Lead

The win makes Dispanette undisputed leading driver of the meet Previously, he and Scotty Welch were tied with five wins apiece

Jim Wingfield brought Margaret's Junior from behind to win the first race of the evening. This places him in a tie with Scotty Welch.

Slim Shilling climbed up to four wins when he brought Belle Arlon home first across the finish line in a thrilling, topsy-turvy horse race The nine-year-old bay mare took the lead at the start but fell far behind when she broke going into the first turn It was a long, tough drive after that but Slim finally overhauled Lady Ryoff to win in 2 14

The fifth contest with four of the field of six Marion-owned horses was anybody's race At the three-quarter mark all six were breathing down each other's necks Around the final turn it was almost a solid mass of trotters

Smokey Stout Wins

Smokey Stout owned by the Idle Hour Stable of Marion and driven by Russ Wickersham, finally pulled away enough to win C D England's Reny Law was third in the mile 15 class trot Just back from Goshen park in New York, Allie Lord, who is owned by George H Alber came in fourth.

The weather was aptly described by young Lowell Arnold of 200 East Center street when he said, "Tonight is ice cream night." He said it with a certain amount of bitterness for Lowell sells popcorn.

The daily double paid $132 for winners Margaret's Junior in the first and Ruth Counsel in the second. Both were the night's longshots Margaret's Junior paid $12 to win and Ruth Counsel $20

8 SURVIVE IN OHIO AMATEUR

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O July 16—With five-time and defending champion Bob Servis on the sidelines, eight classy survivors of 161 starters settled down today for the stretch drive of Ohio's 42nd amateur golf crown.

Two 18-hole rounds were on the day's slate, with the ultimate victors scheduled to clash tomorrow over Miami Valley's rolling course in the 36-hole finals.

Maurice J. McCarthy, Jr., 41-year-old Cincinnati executive of a copper concern ruled as the No 1 favorite over a field full of dark horses.

McCarthy state amateur king in 1934 1937 and 1938, and former holder of the National Intercollegiate and New York metropolitan titles eliminated Dayton's Servis yesterday in the third thrill-filled match between that pair of stalwarts

Back in 1934 McCarthy pinned a 9 and 8 setback on Servis in the 36-hole championship round. Two years later Servis beat McCarthy in 40 holes Yesterday McCarthy was one up coming to the 18th green.

Servis canned a long birdie putt to draw even only to succumb on the second extra hole as McCarthy slipped under par. Each was even par for the 18 holes, McCarthy was one under for 19

INDIANS TAKE 2 FROM PESKY A'S

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, July 16 The Cleveland Indians have been saying for some time that there is nothing to fear from the Philadelphia Athletics — and they're doing a pretty fair job of proving it

The latest demonstration came last night when the Tribesmen spanked the pesky A's in both ends of a twi-night double header to assume a two-and-one-half game lead in the American league—their biggest margin since June 22

The Indians displayed excellent pitching and timely hitting as they downed the A's 6 to 1 in the twilight affair and then came back to take the night game 8 to 5

Steve Gromek who has been used mainly in relief roles so far this year, tossed a fancy four-hitter at the Athletics in the opener

Gromek who whipped the A's in his only other starting assignment of the season kept their four hits confined to four separate frames and gave them only one safe blow after the fourth inning.

The Indians collected only six hits off Phil Marchildon and Charley Harris, but three were bunched in the fifth frame when they scored four times. Ken Keltner's double with the bases loaded was the big punch in the rally Two innings earlier Hank Edwards hit his third home run of the season

The night game provided convincing evidence that Tribe President Bill Veeck knew what he was going when he signed LeRoy (Satchel) Paige, the ageless Negro hurler.

Ol' Satchel relieved starter Bob Lemon in the sixth and stayed the rest of the distance to record his first major league victory.

Keltner, the league's leader in the home run department, belted his 21st round tripper in the eighth inning to break a 5-5 tie. Larry Doby and Jim Hegan also homered for the Indians, who collected 12 hits off Dick Fowler.

BROOKLYN BEATS REDLEGS AGAIN

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 16 — The Cincinnati Reds who lost 21 of 22 games to Chicago a couple of seasons ago now have developed a "jinxing" attitude toward the Brooklyn Dodgers

A crowd of 31,045, the largest under-the-lights gathering of the season, saw the Dodgers take advantage of that attitude last night as they clipped the Reds, 3-3, for their fifth win without loss this year at Crosley Field taking two of five games, but their 2-8 record with Brooklyn is their worst for the season

Rex Barney, Brooklyn righthander made the going easy for his team last night as he doled out five hits one of them Danny Litwhiler's eighth homer of the season

Johnny Vander Meer, suffering his eighth defeat, gave up one Dodger run without a hit in the second inning and then fell by the wayside as they jumped on him for three counters in the third

Litwhiler's circuit blow came in the fourth and the Reds came to life briefly in the fifth to score two runs on a walk, two singles a Dodger error and an outfield fly

Barney notching his fifth win as against a like number of defeats settled down after that pitching one-hit ball the rest of the way

BOXER SUSPENDED

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 16—Cincinnati's boxing commission permanently suspended Oakland Billy Smith, a lightheavyweight, yesterday on a charge of using rough tactics in his losing fight with Bert Lytell Wednesday night. He also was fined $50. Smith charged Lytell stuck a thumb in his eye The commission claimed Smith butted Lytell, and spit in his face

It's Veeck's Turn To Laugh— Satch Wins Important Game

By The Associated Press

It's B... Veeck's turn to laugh today. Old Satchel Paige has contributed an important win to the Cleveland Indians pennant drive

Wasn Veeck, Tribe president, signed the ageless Negro pitcher to his first major league contract on July 7, some observers said it was just another of Veeck's stunts to keep the turnstiles humming

Paige shuffled out of the bullpen in Philadelphia Shibe Park last night in the second game of a twilight-night doubleheader against the second place Athletics and gained credit for an 8-5 Cleveland victory

Tribe Ups Lead

The triumph enabled the Indians who won the first game 6-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Steve Gromek to increase their first place margin over the Athletics to two-and-one-half games

The twin setbacks cut the A's margin over the third place New York Yankees to one percentage point as the world champions beat the St Louis Browns 4-2 in a night tilt at New York

The up and coming Boston Red Sox took a day-night doubleheader from the Detroit Tigers 13-3 and 3-1 at Boston Jack Kramer coasted to his eight straight victory in the day affair

At Washington, Rae Scarborough hurled the Senators to a 4-1 seven-hit conquest over the last place Chicago White Sox

The Boston Braves pulled six games ahead of the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates in the National league's pennant race beating and tying the Chicago Cubs while the Pirates split with the New York Giants

Johnny Sain posted his 12th victory over 2 to 1 in the first game allowing seven salvos

The second game was called at the end of 13 innings because of darkness with the score tied 1-1

The Pirates topped the Giants, 4-3 in the first game Ralph Kiner blasted his 24th round tripper for the Pirates in the eighth inning to tie Cincinnati's Harry Sauer for the major's home run leadership Ray Poat hurled the Giants to a 10-3 triumph in the second game, scattering eight hits to gain his ninth victory

The Brooklyn Dodgers last night moved into a fourth place tie with the Giants beating the Reds 5-3

In another night tilt at St Louis Dutch Leonard hurled the Philadelphia Phillies to a 3-1 victory over Harry Brecheen and the Cardinals

Yanks Trample Cubs, 18-4; Schmitt Swapped for Janesville Player

Johnny Juhasz To Replace Bruins' Home Run Leader on Hot Corner

BY BILL DEEM

NEWARK, O., July 16—Aside from the unwelcome announcement that Newark beat our brains out in Arnold park last night, the big Marion Cub news coming out of this city is the third-baseman swap engineered by Manager Frank Zeke Bekeza of Janesville, Wis., former Marion manager.

Just as the two managers exchanged positions so did their third basemen.

Didn't Dress

Juhasz, who had been riding the rails since early morning didn't dress, however and the third base was prosecuted by pitcher Ray Poet.

He'll be ready to go tonight when Kristie sends lefty Mike Kelly on the hill against Newark's Ernie Lawrence in a bid to take the second and final game of the series here before the Cubs move on to Zanesville for three weekend engagements.

Pitcher Jim Edgar one of the few hurlers who didn't work for Marion last night, remarked that it seemed that enemy clubs always have their hitting shoes on for the first game of a series with the sixth place Bruins and the Newark Yanks certainly did as night.

They rapped out a total of 18 hits, including five doubles and four triples chasing starter Jim Koehler in the first inning with a six-run outburst. They sent his replacement, Jim Tingle to the showers with a flurry of base knocks in the fourth, and hit Bob Adkins a time or two to score seven runs in that inning.

Marchelli Winds Up

Frank Marchelli, who came in the fifth held the hot Yanks to four runs in finishing out the game.

The Cubs got to Newark's mound ace, Dick Murphy for three runs on five hits in the sixth, but Dick McEvoy blanked them after coming in in the seventh. The Bruins had tallied once in the fourth on Bobseman's single and Bolduc's double.

Newark's Joan Krochuna led the hitting attack collecting four for five. Sal Sasso and Bob Newman each hit three times.

THE RECORDS of past performance this season give sly old Zeke the best of the third base man swap. Schmitt, a long-ball hitter, left with a .287 batting average, 15 doubles, one triple, nine homers, and 41 runs batted in. Juhasz, described by Kristie as a punch hitter arrives with a .278 average. Schmitt holds the edge in fielding percentage too, .890 to .832. But sports editor George Raubaucher of the Janesville, Wis., Gazette, says Juhasz is an aggressive player who will make "impossible plays time after time and may sizzle in new scenery. His lightning fast, which is a big advantage for the Marion Cubs. He claims to have swiped 27 bases in the last month with Janesville. The new third sacker hails from Toledo. He started in organized baseball last year with Clinton, Iowa, but finished the season with Janesville. This year he started with Hutchinson, Kansas, but broke an ankle in spring training and was sidelined for a month, again returning to Janesville. After a bad start Zeke Bekeza seems to be doing OK at his new post. Says Raubacher:

"Bekeza had a heck of an introduction to Wisconsin State league competition. He arrived at the local grounds in uniform in the second inning of the first game of a doubleheader on July 1 with the opposition having two runs in, the bases loaded, none out and a count of nothing and two on the batter. He changed pitchers immediately, but before he got the fire out the visitors had tallied nine runs. He appeared as a pinch batter in that game, walking for the pitcher in the seventh. He caught the nightcap and whiffed all three times up. But he hit some long ones in following games—three homers and seven runs batted in on July 5 and a homer the first time up on July 6, giving him four circuit smashes in five official times at bat, which is better than par for the local diamond. Bekeza has the players running the bases—and the fans like it.

KIRK, DIRINGER MEET IN FINALS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 16 — Peggy Kirk of Findlay and Carol Diringer of Tiffin, two of the nation's best women golfers, clashed today for the Ohio Women's Golf championship.

The title match — scheduled for 36 holes over the Columbus Country Club course—was the fifth meeting between the northwestern Ohio stars. Each won two of the previous matches.

Miss Kirk, the defending champion, eliminated Miss Diringer in the semi-finals last year, 2 and 1. Earlier, she took the Toledo district crown with a 1-up victory. Miss Diringer scored a 1-up victory in the 1947 Western Open and a 2 and 1 triumph at Ormond Beach, Fla., last winter.

Long-driving Miss Kirk was one under par yesterday for the 14 holes she needed to dispose of Mrs. Janet Shock Beardsley of Dayton, a former champion, 6 and 4. Peggy didn't lose a hole. She won four of the first six holes and finished it with a birdie three.

The 22-year-old Miss Diringer lost two of the first three holes to Jean Hopkins of Cleveland, last year's runner-up, and was only 1-up at the turn despite an even par round of 36. She clinched a trip to the finals by halving the 10th winning the next three and halving the 14th and 15th.

Alivojvodic, Bolduc, Named On O-I League All-Star Team

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 16—Muncie's Reds and the Springfield Giants, Ohio-Indiana baseball league leaders, each placed four men today on the 17-man official league All-Star squad.

The selections, announced by President Frank M. Colley were made by baseball writers and official scorers in league towns.

Only the Richmond Braves, currently in seventh, failed to land a player on the "dream team."

Bob Newman, Muncie's home run slugger came closest to being a unanimous selection. He received votes from all eight cities. Five named him as a catcher and three picked him as an outfielder. He was given the catching berth on the All-Star team.

His teammates on the squad were Billy Ford at third base and pitchers Lawrence Miller and Ray Trava. Miller was second in the balloting for pitchers, Trava fourth.

Greco Leads Hurlers

Springfield's strikeout ace, Joe Greco received the most votes among the hurlers. Catcher Dan Matthews, outfielder Ray Berta and utility infielder Carl Hosier were other Giants named to the team. Hosier missed the first base berth by one vote.

Zanesville landed first baseman John Pulcini, catcher Rudy Antonetz, and pitcher Ray Hathaway on the All-Star squad. Hathaway is the Dodgers' manager.

Manager George Staller of Portsmouth topped the outfielders in vote-getting. Portsmouth's Frank Major was placed at second base. Marion was represented by outfielder Bill Bolduc and pitcher Nick Alivojvodic. Newark's Joe Eshoo was named at short and Carl Raucher of Lima won an outfield berth.

Muncie Manager Mike Blazo was named honorary manager of the team with Manager Bob Roth of Springfield as coach.

Actually since Muncie—as the league-leading club—will be host to the All-Star game next Tuesday night, the Reds on the squad will be replaced by players from other teams. Colley said replacements would be announced next Monday.

Muncie Stretches Lead

Muncie stretched its lead to four games last night by dumping Springfield in their series opener, 6-5. The Reds jumped to a 6-0 lead off Greco, and then almost were caught in the late innings. Springfield's Dick Vanderharr homered inside the park with one man on base in the seventh.

Richmond, hottest club in the league cemented its hold on seventh place by dusting off third-place Portsmouth, 6-4. It was the Braves' 13th win in their last 17 games. They had won 22 and lost 43 before starting their drive. Jim Herndon who tossed a four-hitter scored his ninth win.

In a pair of wild games, Zanesville outlasted Lima, 17-12, and Newark chipped Marion 18-4. Newark's Dick Murphy scored his 13th win of the campaign.

COLUMBUS ENDS MILWAUKEE STREAK

By The Associated Press

Defeats at home have been few and far between for the Milwaukee Brewers this season, but Borchert Field fans saw their second-place favorites bow to Columbus, 12 to 8, last night. The defeat was the Brewers' 10th in 45 home starts.

In snapping a 12-game Milwaukee winning streak the Red Birds deprived the Brewers an opportunity of catching Indianapolis, American Association leaders. The Indians lost to St. Paul 1 to 0 in 10 innings, and remained one game ahead of Milwaukee.

In other league games, Minneapolis defeated Toledo, 8 to 7 and Kansas City downed Louisville, 7 to 2.

Columbus also snapped Al Epperly's six game string of victories, but the big Milwaukee righthander still leads the league's pitching corps with 10 victories and only two losses.

In a storybook finish at St. Paul outfielder Earl Naylor hit a home run in the last of the 10th to give St. Paul the decision over Indianapolis.

Minneapolis squeezed out its one-run victory over Toledo for the second straight night when Len Shultz singled with the bases full in the last of the ninth to break a 7-7 tie.

Kansas City's Dave Madison pitched shutout ball until the ninth inning when Tom Wright's home run with Bill Strickland on base saved Louisville from a shutout.

Wrestling Bouts Run Off in Record Time

A pair of 90-minute main matches at the Armory last night went by the boards in record time—with only a little more than an hour being needed to run off six falls and a possible three hours of wrestling.

Gil LaCross took the first fall in the opening main event, pinning Irish McGee with a crab hold in 12 minutes. McGee came back however to take the next two in sequence with a hammerlock and stopper hold in a total of 17 minutes. Tommy Martindale surrendered to Baik Estes in the first fall of the second main go when Estes tied him up with a rolling short arm scissors hold, but came back to win the second and third falls successively with a crab hold and a counter on Estes scissors hold in two and seven minutes respectively. Estes used 10 minutes of the hour and a half to win the first fall.

Stranahan, a heavy favorite to repeat over Larry Dana of Bradford, Pa., Walter McGrew of Vancouver and Joe Shoddard of Hamilton clashed in the other bracket.

Survivors will play 36 holes of match competition Saturday for the championship.

PAR TAKES BEATING IN DAPPER DAN

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, July 16 — Par was expected to take another beating today as some of the nation's top golfers began the second round of the $10,500 Dapper Dan invitational golf tournament.

Big Vic Ghezzi of Englewood, N. J., gave an indication of things to come yesterday as he blasted par by six strokes to take a three stroke lead in the first 18 holes. His 66 shaved by two strokes the record for the recently lengthened 6,650 yard Alcoma layout.

Twenty-one of the 130 contestants turned in cards of par 72 or better.

It was expected a score of 146 would be needed by the 80 low scorers plus ties who will qualify today to remain in the tourney which ends on Sunday.

Still very much in the running after the first round were four players bracketed in a tie for second place with 68. They were Dr. Cary Middlecoff the golfing dentist from Memphis, Tenn., Ellsworth Vines, former tennis player of Los Angeles, Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., and George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa.

Vast Store of Oil In Arctic Is Reported

By The United Press

BIRMINGHAM Eng — Colonel S J M Auld, past president of the Institute of Petroleum, reports a great untapped source of oil around the North Pole.

He told a meeting here that the North Pole basin is one of four known oil basins in the world. The others are the Caribbean, including the United States oil fields, the Middle East and East Indies.

United States' share of world production has dropped from 72 per cent in 1928 to 60 per cent last year and is still declining. Production in the Middle East, however, has jumped from 34,000,000 tons in 1945 to at least 45,000,000 tons this year he said.

By 1951 he said Middle East wells should yield at least 90,000,000 tons of oil a year nearly one-quarter of the world's requirements.

US Department of Agriculture chemists have developed a non-swelling wood which promises to eliminate the nuisance of stuck drawers and doors.
